PAS Kenya commemorate International women's month with young women leaders in Malindi

March 13, 2012

To commemorate International women's history month PAO John Haynes met over 200 young women leaders in Malindi. The special month celebrates the struggle of women and their contribution to lift up their communities. PAO used this year's theme of "Connecting girls, inspiring the futures" to encouraged women to be pro-active and fight impunity. He also talked about mission programs in Kenya – health, education and economic development. The audience discussed issues of concern for many women in Kenya; key among them is lack of education, poverty and security. Young women leaders are now advocating for more political position to reduce the generational gap that has existed since independence.
